

Digital Literacy Session at Youth Hostel in SOS Village

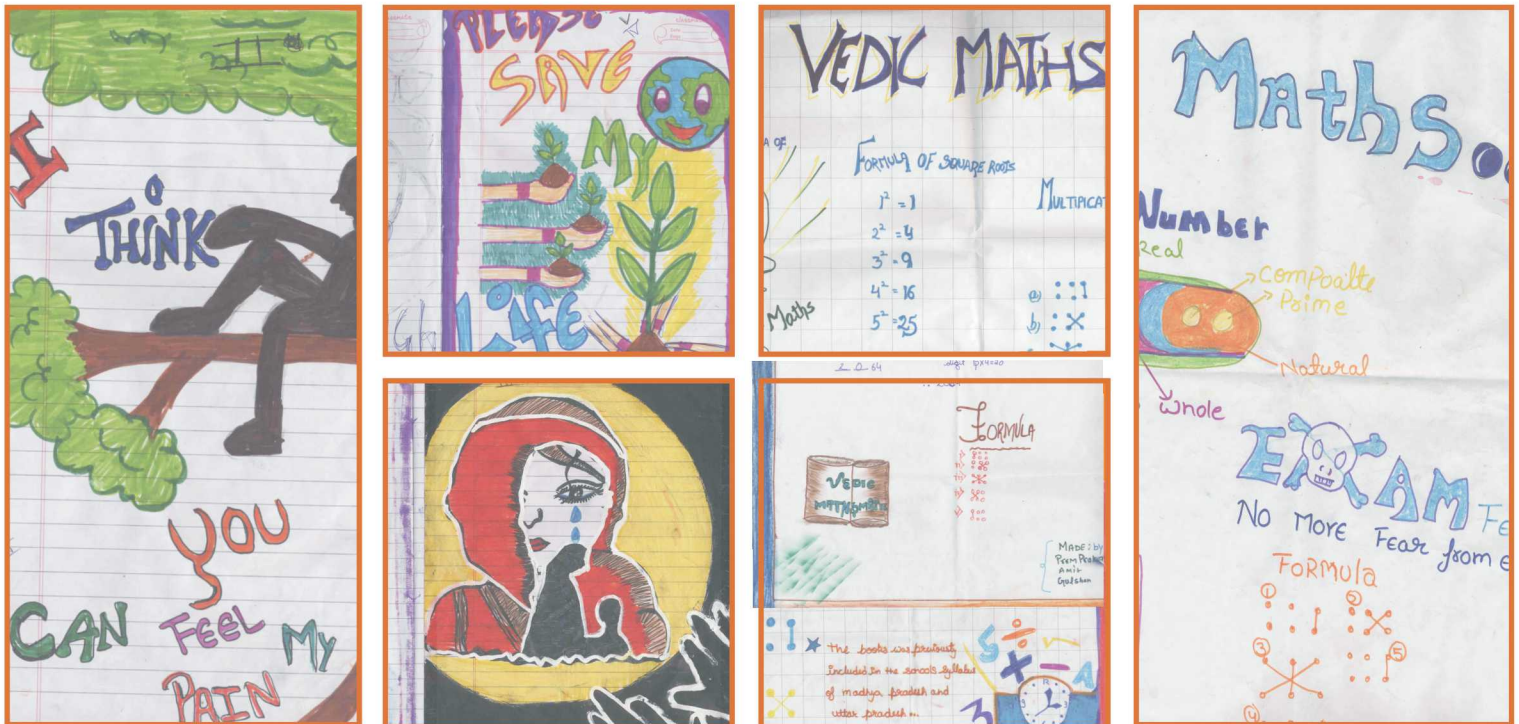

The day saw the SOS village children full of energy, anxiously waiting for the action to begin. The theme was going to be around Friendships day and children were excited to know more on this subject and share their thoughts with everyone. The idea was to make the session more interesting and engaging for the children.

Children were asked by Poushali Ma'am to find out more about this day and its origin over the internet. They were then asked to be as creative as possible and write poems or two liners on the subject. We dearly missed Dhurav, one of the tiny tots who was suffering from appendix and was unable to attend the class.

The little angels dished out some exciting stuff on the topic that reflected their talent and creativity. Each and every was given a chance to share their findings and write-ups with everyone.

Later, the children were treated to some tasty Choley Bhaturey sponsored by Poushali Ma'am. The session ended by around 10.45 AM and children merrily made their way out.
